GENERAL INFORMATION:

The Pulsar suspension is available in three sizes, the smaller one being suitable for illuminating a table, the large one best suited for large reception halls and large rooms. Despite a simple shape, it has the complex appeal of a chandelier.

The light owes it to its ring-shaped shade, which is entirely set with square, polished glass crystals. The stones emit a shiny, sparkling light outside.

At the same time, the light directs its light upwards and downwards thanks to the structure open on top and below. Therefore, Pulsar offers direct and indirect light. The structure comes in shiny nickel or gold.
